Sanders Enjoys Young Generation

After teaching thirteen years at Exeter, Mrs. Sanders will go into retirement effective June 9th. Mrs. Sanders has been a well liked teacher by faculty and students and many times you could find room 23 open at all times of the day with her giving extra guidance to students in English and math. Mrs. Sanders was honored as the 1970 Acta was dedicated to her.

When asked what she would miss most about Exeter High Mrs. Sanders replied, "The younger generation because they are so idealistic. They have so many hopes and dreams at this stage in their life." Also she said that she will

Secretarial Trip

Miss Toni Fuller's Secretarial Seminar class visited the Visalia Technical Institute on May 9th. They were given a tour of the school and shown the Burroughs L1200 mini computer. This machine was programmed to miss getting to meet the new students and finding out what they are like.

Mrs. Sanders' happiest moment at Exeter was when two years ago, the ACTA was dedicated to her. She was so happy and surprised that she started crying but that was out of pure joy.

Before coming to Exeter Mrs. Sanders lived in Honolulu and was a tutor in many subjects and also taught math. For a couple of years she didn't teach and then she came to Exeter and has served the school for the past thirteen years.

Mrs. Sanders chose teaching as a career because she feels that for any work to be meaningful one has to be helping people. When asked if she could start all over would she still choose teaching, she said "yes".

Next year Mrs. Barbara Sanders won't be teaching at Exeter anymore and she will have plenty of spare time. But in that time she said she would like to continue working in braille for the blind and also be a substitute teacher sometimes.

Mrs. Veitch Receives Dedication

"The Class of 1972 is proud to dedicate the 1972 Acta to Mrs. Nona Veitch, an outstanding teacher," was the inscription on the plaque awarded to Mrs. Veitch on May 25th's dedication assembly.

Libbi Sweet, editor of the 1972 Acta presented the plaque and said, "The Class of 1972 will be forever grateful to an outstanding teacher and a friend. Mrs. Nona Veitch.

Mrs. Veitch became a teacher at Exeter High in 1956 and is now an advance mathematics teacher. She begins by teaching the incoming freshmen, algebra, and takes them clear through their senior year of trigonometry.

She not only teaches five periods a day, but she is also the advisor of the California Scholarship Federation and counselor of all college preparatory students. She gives much of her own free time to offer individual attention to students whether it concerns math, college, required tests, or just cheap advice. Room 30 is always found open before and after school and during brunch and lunch.

President's Message

Dear friends and neighbors:

I wish to take this opportunity to thank you for allowing me to serve as your illustrious leader.

During my administration I have attempted to push through the policies I set forth in my campaign promises, in spite of an unsympathetic Student Government class. I am not the one who put us in the position we are now in. But I have done my best to ameliorate the problems now facing us.

I am sure that my successor will do everything in her power to continue my work and I wish her every success.

Again thank you.

Your leader Richard P. Rodriguez

play "craps" according to the rules of Las Vegas. The computer printed such messages as, "Your loss is my gain, It isn't so hot to win, and stay away from Vegas."

The group then attended a luncheon at The Depot. Many hilarious things happened such as having the waiter show the group through the men's room to see the train and hear the whistle.

While in Visalia they also visited an antique shop, art gallery and learned a little about restoring old furniture.

Those attending were Becky Barnett, Irma Bautista, Patti Beshwate, Sue Carter, Paula King, Terry Moody, Vicki Percy, Lupe Rincon, Janice Strable, Marilyn Tompkins, Nancy Ventruella, Lynn Woolley, Mrs. Jean Wooley, and Miss Toni Fuller.

Practicing for the Plymouth Trouble Shooting contest in Fresno are Dave Emershaw and Tom Benton. The car was furnished by Bertram's Motor of Visalia.

Mr. John L. Sanders has just recently retired from the Chevron Chemical Company but is now employed at the Philippe Realty Company.

Mrs. Sanders will be missed by all.

OH Classes Visit Nursery

Forty two students from Ornamental Horticulture I and II classes left Wednesday May 7, 1972 at 8:15, on a field trip to the Armstrong Nursery in Wasco, Calif. They returned at 1:30 p.m. with many new ideas and methods of the budding operation, Pest control, irrigation, and the training and tying of plants.

The Armstrong Nursery is a wholesale, retail nursery with head-quarters in Ontario, California. The nursery grows field stock such as grapes, fruit trees, nut trees and ornamental trees, at Wasco for sales to retail nurseries.

Wrong Sparkplug "Blows" Contest

Pulling a wrong spark plug kept Exeter High from placing very high in the Plymouth Trouble Shooting Contest.

On May 18th Mr. Knudson took his advance auto shop class to Fresno with Tom Benton and Dave Emershaw as entries in the contest. Mr. Knudson said, "As a whole they did an excellent job in their efforts to try and win the trouble shooting contest."

Dave and Tom did very well in the written test and the mechanical part. Just one little slip-up with the spark plug kept them from the top.

Chano Lavano is Exeter's Exchange student who will be going to a foreign country as soon as he knows where he is to be going.

Time To Think About Black List

Once again the school year is coming to an end, and it is the time of the year for all students to start thinking about the possibility of being semester Black List.

Students may not have their report cards or receive their diplomas until their fines are paid. Many students owe large amounts of money for over due books and magazines from the library. Future Bermuda Days Cancelled

By RANDY PHILLIPS

Hi Dee-Hi friends and neighbors, well you did it again. I'm talking about Bermuda Day, as a few of you know-it was the 11th of May and there were at least 100 people who attended, and out of 833 that's not bad (it's terrible.) Besides getting detentions, which I can tell many of you did just by looking at the detention list, quite a few of you have grave hang-overs the next day.

Well if that bit of wisdom didn't touch your heart try this one.

Why would anybody want to ditch on a day when you don't even have to go to classes and work all day. I mean that's like running away from home at the age of 43. Now don't get me wrong, I'm not saying that cutting school is right, but it's a well known fact that most kids cut school at one time or another but it seems very peculiar to ditch school on a day made up just for fun.

It's too late to do anything about this years Bermuda Day and possibly for a few years to come, for it has come to my attention that Bermuda Day may not be with us very soon, but I just wanted you to know that your stupidity has overcome once again.

Keep "Special" Acta In Good Condition

The Acta is here and the staff has every right to be proud of their efforts. They realize that they have made some mistakes but they also know how much work and time went into the 1972 edition.

It would be great to have a perfect yearbook but that is something that has never been done and probably will never happen as long as students are

It may seem terribly clever to sign little dirty things but what happens next week when your parents or your grandparents want to look through your book. How funny will the filth be then?

And won't it be fun to try to explain all those "cute" little words to your own children in the future.

Don't spoil a book that was

Thanks In Order For Three Departees

Mere words of appreciation cannot express the gratitude felt for the many years of service that has been provided by our fine district superintendent Mr. Lewis Foster, and two outstanding teachers Mrs. Barbara Sanders, and Mrs. Mary Chandler. Varied reasons are the cause for these people for leaving us at the end of the academic year. Exeter High will never be quite the same without these people, as they have inspired many a student during their years in high school.

Though Exeter has been their home, Mr. Foster and Mrs. Chandler will continue on in the education field elsewhere. Mr. Foster has accepted an administration position in northern California while Mrs. Chandler will be moving to the Bakersfield area as her husband has moved his dental practice to Bakersfield area. Her plans are to teach in that area.

Mr. Foster, Mrs. Sanders, and Mrs. Chandler good bye, good luck, and you'll be remembered.

Circus Theme Set Stage For '72 Prom

"The Greatest Show on Earth" was the theme for the 1972 Junior-Senior prom.

Debbie Johnson, chairman of the prom and many others Juniors worked all day Saturday on preparations for the circus night.

The setting of a circus was made perfect with a covered wagon, many posters, clowns, a cut-out of a muscle man and sexy lady, a gum machine, balloons, and even American government films were shown on the dance floor walls.

Although there was a two hour shortage of punch, water, popcorn and cookies were served from the covered wagon.

On the ceiling of the dance floor crepe paper was hung to give the affect of a big top.

Juniors felt that from the large turn out and from the outstanding response to "Fat and Sassy's" music that the 1972 Junior-Senior prom was a success.

'The Greatest Show On Earth' Was A Swinging Junior Prom

Clowns are suppose to make people laugh and one used as centerpiece at the Prom appears to be doing just that to Judy Wilson and Richard Garcia.

Smiling "ticket" girl Machele Scott gives a dance program to Richard Wolverton and his date

Mary Jane Campbell. Sounds from the circus filled the foyer as the couples arrived for the prom.

Two really swinging young ladies, Cindy Wehb and Lorri Archer, enjoy the lively music at the prom.

Clowning around are Dean Gillum, Danny Farmer, Randy Ooley, Brad Mills, Dewey Martin and Dino Pizarro. These colorfully dressed young men were the freshmen who were picked to be prom servers.

Two happy "kids" enjoy being photographed behind the special painting done for the Junior class by Mr. John Boydston and his helpers.

A little bit shy but having fun are the promservers Cathy Preston, Julie Griggs, Denise Smith, Susie

Lane, Terry Morris, Machele Scott and Susie Crist.

JV Baseball Steals Championship

For Coach Mr. Jim Braden and the Exeter Union High school junior varsity, this years season once again must be termed as a success. The Little Monarchs took the league championship with a 13-2 record, and for Coach Braden this is his fourth championship season in a row.

In the final encounter with Lindsay, Exeter defeated the Cardinal 2-1. Mark Hendrix went the distance for Exeter allowing 4 hits, while striking out seven. He got himself in a pitching jam in the sixth as a run scored with one out, while he also loaded the bases. But he came back to strike out the next hitter, and ended the inning by causing the following batter to fly out to end the Lindsay threat.

Stroking hits for Exeter were

Monarchs Hurt By Bad Breaks

Many times a few bad breaks can turn a successful season into nightmare. For the Exeter Varsity baseball team this past season could be best classified, disastrous.

The Monarchs ended their season on a sour note losing to the Lindsay Cardinals 8-7 in eight innings. George Sanders went two and one-third innings for Exeter until giving way to Freshmen Dewey Martin. Martin who was recently called up from the Junior varsity, pitched an outstanding game for Exeter, but a few costly errors ruined his chance for the victory. Swinging the big bat for Exeter in the Rick Ruiz, George Ybarra, Charlie Dodson, Brad Mills, and Hendrix.

I asked Coach Braden for a statement about this past season and he replied, "I feel that I have to attribute the success of the team to our two mound aces Dewey Martin, and Mark Hendrix. They were 85 percent of the team as Martin posted a 6-0 record, while Hendrix was 7-2 on the season. The team was a well balanced club, and they worked well together. One other major factor was our clutch hitting. Whenever we had men on base, the hitting would always come around to bring in the runners."

After four straight league crowns, undoubtedly Coach Braden will be looking forward to number five next year.

Juniors Celebrate Bermuda Victory

On Bermuda Day the Juniors got their class together and participated in almost every event. They were first with 213½ points. Freshmen took second place with 186. Seniors were third with 170½ and Sophomores were last with 130 points.

The Juniors took first in the following events: Girls Badminton Doubles, Claudia Griffin and John Burns won the Pie Eating Contest for the Juniors, Egg Throw, Boys 880 Relay, 50 yard dash, Steve Johns in the Long Jump and High Jump, Girls

Golfers end season second

The Exeter High golf team entered the league final golf tournament in second place behind Kingsburg and finished the tournament and the season in the same position. Kingsburg won with 528 to Exeter's 541.

"Bermuda Day was fun for the few people who were there," says Mr. Hitt. He was very disappointed in the way it turned out. Next year there isn't going to be another Bermuda Day. There
